

Pro Bono Australia provides news, careers and resources for the common good. They're a group of socially-minded individuals who help purpose-driven people and organisations to grow their impact.

Pro Bono Australia believe society is better off when there is a thriving social economy. So over two decades ago, before the words "social enterprise" even existed, they started one. Their mission is simple: to activate good intentions. They're a proud B Corp. And their name? It comes from pro bono, meaning "for good". Because that's what they are.

Subscribe here to join their community of 60,000 subscribers and receive the social sector's most essential news coverage delivered free every Tuesday and Thursday morning.

Pro Bono Australia is one of ASF's valued partners and share our vision of building a strong and sustainable not-for-profit sector. Pro Bono Australia and ASF provide each other with marketing support to ensure education, training and development opportunities reach the people and organisations who need it most.